Crime Scene in a Box

examples
Amanda Knox, an originally American girl, who temporarily moved to Italy to attend university. One morning after staying the night with her roommate, Meredith, she got to the house she shared with a roommate, Meredith, who noticed the front door to get into the room was ajar, but didn’t think anything of it and went directly to take a shower.

Once in the bathroom, she found blood on the sink and rug, but decided to wash it off and continue into the shower. When she saw a bloody footprint on the rug, she didn’t think much of it, but when she noticed blood on the toilet, which wasn’t there before, she was startled. She then realizes that something might not be right.

She returns to Knox’s house and goes to her boyfriend, Raffaele Sollecito’s house, where they notice the door to his room to be unlocked. Before they could call the authorities, the police arrived at the scene.
